

Words from the Mayors desk

Here it is, months end already. Boy has February gone by fast.

On Wednesday Feb. 25th, we had our public hearing on the proposed “area of impact”. It was well attended and it went over very well. Bill Forsberg, our City Attorney was the moderator and he did a fine job.

Weather was not a big issue this past month. The city crew had to plow the city streets a couple of times. As soon as it warms up, the city crew will be patching potholes through out the city. There are a lot of them.

The “Safe Routes to School” will be bid out by the Idaho Dept of Transportation sometime in the very near future. The sidewalk will run from Bridge St., up East Yellowstone to the Radio Road. Start up time is expected to run the first of May to about June 30th.

Be well and enjoy life. Do the best you can with what you have during these tough economic times.

Department Reports

Police and Fire

We appreciate the caution most drivers have used during this winter’s snow and ice season, especially not insisting on the right of way and driving defensively. We could have had a lot more collisions without your diligence.

Neighborhood Watch: As always, your continued interest in notifying the police department of suspicious activity in your neighborhood or throughout the community is appreciated.

Please remember to use your seatbelt.

Animal Control & Code Compliance

New animal control fees -

Dog tags are 30.00 if not spayed or neutered and 5.00 if they have been..

Replacement tags are 3.00 and to transfer tags from one dog to another is 3.00. Impound fees are 25.00 plus 5.00 a day for every day the dogs are impounded.

For more information, please call city hall at 624-3494

Parks and Recreation

Nothing reported

Streets and Airport

We appreciate the patience and tolerance from the majority of the community during the snow plowing that has been done the past few days. It took us a little longer than usual due to the fact that the city crew cleaned out driveways because the snow was heavy and wet.

We will be patching the holes in the roads as weather permits. Please be patient since the weather is out of our control. We will get to them as soon as possible.

Sewer, Water, and Sanitation

Please remove your garbage cans from the streets after they have been emptied so as to make snow plowing easier for the city crews.
